

Chapter 3, Migration, Key Issue 1 – Guided Notes

Key Issue 1 – Where are Migrants Distributed?

Part A - Distance of Migration

Part B - US Immigration Patterns

Migration overview... (describe)

A. Distance of Migration - What is Ravenstein's Law?

-
-

I. International and Internal Migration – (what is a cluster)

International Migration

-
-

Internal Migration

-
-

II. International Migration Patterns – (Describe them in general?)

B. U.S. Immigration Patterns - Describe

I. U.S. Immigration: Seventeenth and Eighteenth Centuries –

Europe

Chapter 3, Migration, Key Issue 1 - Guided Notes

Sub-Saharan Africa

II. U.S. Immigration: Mid-Nineteenth to Early Twentieth Century - (Record any who, what, where, why, when's cited in the book)

1840s and 1850s: Ireland and Germany

1870s: Ireland and Germany

1880s: Scandinavia

1905 - 1914: Southern and Eastern Europe

III. U.S. Immigration: Late Twentieth to Early Twenty-First Century - (Record any who, what, where, why, when's cited in the book)

Asia

Latin America

Key Issue 2 – Where do People Migrate Within a Country

Part A - Interregional Migration

Part B - Intraregional Migration

A. Interregional Migration - Define it

I. Migration Between Regions of the United States – (Describe it in general?)

Changing Center of Population

1790: Hugging the Coast

1800-1840: Crossing the Appalachians

1850-1890: Rushing to the gold

1900-1940: Filling in the Great Plains

1950-2010: Moving South

II. Migration between Regions in the World's Largest Country – (Describe in detail)

III. Migration between Regions in other Large Countries – (Describe in detail)

Canada

Chapter 3, Migration, Key Issue 2 – Guided Notes

China

Brazil

B. Intraregional Migration

I. Migration from Rural to Urban Areas – (Describe it in general?)

II. Migration from Urban to Suburban Areas – (Describe TFR)

III. Migration from Urban to Rural Areas – (Describe it)